FLOOR DEBATE

January 29, 2004 LB 172

else anything. The only one she should have to tell is the one under the law she is required to tell now and that is the judge. And she could go to the judge and explain that she was impregnated by her father. If they disbelieve that, take a blood sample from her, take a sample from him of any kind of fluid or bodily tissue they need, hair, fingernails, swab the inside of the mouth, and do a DNA test and see. But Senator Foley would want that young woman to have to go tell the father, and if she didn't know about the bypass, she would have to carry that child into the world as her brother. That would be her brother because any child of her father is her sibling. And that's what Senator Foley believes ought to happen. And it's all right for him to believe that. It's all right for anybody to believe it. It's all right for anybody to advocate it, but as policymakers, we need to create...

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...opportunities and there are some people on this floor who if they had a child would want that child to have some opportunities. Others wouldn't. We've had people stand on the floor and say if I had a relative who was dying and the only way to find a cure was to use experimentation on cloned tissue, let them die. Well, it's easy to be that casual with the life and health of somebody else. But those people will usually go to doctors. They will take medication. They will do the things to keep themselves around here. Senator Schimek, I'm in the same boat with Senator Foley when it comes to never having been pregnant. But I don't have to have been pregnant to sympathize with these young women, just as I don't have to have my hand chopped off to be in sympathy with somebody who had that happen. Most of the things we've become aware of...

SENATOR CUDABACK: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...we don't personally experience. Thank you, Mr. President.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Chambers. You've heard the opening on AM1437 offered by Senator Chambers to the Schimek amendment, AM2209, to LB 172. Open for discussion on the
